

SPRING CIRCULATION
LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!
The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can lose over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The continued calls upon THE LEADER for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Suppliers, caveaturs, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, reasonable rates will be charged. A line, and hereafter, will be used for the inevitable rule. This, however.

Does Not Include
notices of lodge meetings or church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.
Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for business notices in THE LEADER is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a five-line local insertion in the paper. "I'll tell you when to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. But he forgets all about it. The notice runs for two months—20 times—the bill is $10. When he finds it out there is a "buck" and a controversy, followed probably by an angry feeling. Now to obviate the trouble, no "full-front" notices will be accepted hereafter. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant all around.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

COVINGTON KILLING.

SENATOR GOEBEL SHOTS AND ALMOST INSTANTLY KILLS JOHN L. SANDFORD.

THE LEADER early yesterday afternoon received a special saying that Senator William Goebel had shot and killed John L. Sandford, Cashier of the Farmers and Traders' National Bank at Covington.

The news created considerable comment here, where both parties are quite well known.

Both men were prominent in politics, and each a leader of respective factions of the Kenton Democracy, and it was out of this that the fatal difficulty grew.

Judge Garrett S. Wall of this city was in Covington yesterday, and was in company with Senator Goebel up to within an hour of the unfortunate affair.

We learn from him that Attorney General W. J. Hendrick had asked Goebel to go with him to Mr. Sandford's bank to get a check cashed, and that while on the way they met banker Helm, whom they both knew, and proposed to go into his bank for the purpose.

While the three men were standing in front of the bank Mr. Sandford came up—the meeting being purely accidental—and with his right hand in his coat pocket he reached out his left hand and shook hands with Mr. Hendrick.

He then turned to Senator Goebel and said: "Mr. Goebel, are you the author of the article that appeared in the last issue of THE LEADER?"

"I am," replied Goebel.

Mr. Hendrick says there were two shots fired in such quick succession that he is unable to say positively which man fired first.

The shot from Sandford's pistol grazed Goebel's clothing.

While Goebel's ball entered Sandford's forehead, lodging in the brain and producing death in a short while.

Mr. Helm was so close to the parties that his face was powder-burned.

The article to which Mr. Sandford took exception contained several references to that gentleman in which the author concealed the real name of the stigma behind the ever ready—

THE SILVER PROBLEM.

Commercial Circle.
Farmer Anderson has two thousand bushels of wheat.
Mr. Jones has a thousand dollars worth of silver bullion.

Mr. Anderson's wheat is worth in the market $2,000.

So is Mr. Jones's silver bullion.
Mr. Jones goes to Philadelphia, takes his silver to the Mint and it comes into two thousand nice, new, pretty silver dollars.

When Farmer Anderson brings along his thousand dollars worth of wheat, Mr. Jones buys it, paying him $1,000—and he has $1,000 left with which to buy the wheat of the next farmer that comes along.

This is free coinage. Some people are sure that all the farmers in the country are shouting for it.

We should see a good many strange things in this country if the silver people should have their way.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than on all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Instructions to Income Tax Officers Filed and Sent Out.—The cabinet officers make their returns to the collector of their respective districts.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The commissioner of internal revenue, after a session of all night with the chief of the income tax bureau, was able at last to fix up some sort of regulations to guide the internal revenue collectors in their collection of the income tax. It was hard work, but by a strict interpretation of the words "rents" and incomes from real estate, they managed to prepare the paper by 11 o'clock Thursday morning and carried it to the secretary of the treasury for his approval. After the secretary signed it, it was made public and instantly put on the wires and sent to all the internal revenue collectors over the country.

There are some points, however, which are not defined in the new revenue department said Thursday morning they were not going to borrow trouble by deciding questions which have not been raised. One of those is in regard to the salary of the president of the United States and those of the judges of the supreme and United States courts. The constitution forbids the lessening or increasing of the salary of these officers during their term of office, and the question is whether the salary can be decreased by a tax.

Speaking of the return of his income by the president the commissioner said that the question in regard to the president's salary had not been raised and that the president had not returned returns upon his other income to the Washington office because this was not his legal residence. The cabinet officers have all made their returns of their incomes to the collectors of the income districts, and Mr. Thurber, the president's secretary, has sent his returns to the Michigan collector.

CHANGED HIS VIEWS.

Why Rev. Dr. Richard M. Smith has Resigned From His Methodist College. New York, April 12.—A special to the World from Richmond, Va., says: The Rev. Dr. Richard M. Smith, professor of Greek, Hebrew and Sanskrit at Randolph-Macon college, Ashland, Va., where Methodist ministers are educated, will resign his chair. He will take the step on account of a change in his views of religion. Dr. Smith is inclined to believe the inspiration of certain portions of the Scriptures, and where he grants the inspiration at all it is not in any special sense. That is to say, he believes the Bible to be inspired, just as the church hymn book is inspired, and that St. Paul and other Bible authors were inspired men, just as Martin Luther and John Wesley were.

Cholera in Japan.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 12.—Mail advices by the Empress of Japan gave the news of a grave danger which threatens the southern Japanese islands. Cholera is contained in the appended extract from a private letter received by Dr. George Duncan, health officer of this city, from a brother professional in Yokohama, whose position places him in possession of all the facts: "From the eighth to the tenth of this month, I saw the letter which bears date, March 29, 'there were eighteen cases of genuine cholera, with ten deaths at the naval station of Yokohama. The epidemic. The disease had been imported from China.'"

Oranges Much Cheaper.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 12.—At a meeting of the executive board of the Fruit exchange, held here Thursday, the orange market was discussed at length. The heavy shipments of Mexico and Florida fruits have made competition brisk, and it is decided to make the following changes in the price of seedlings: Those held at $1.50 to 45 cents, those at $1.25 to 80 cents, and those at $1.50 to $1. There were no other changes.

SENATOR MORGAN

Says the Question Should Be Put Promptly to Great Britain About What She Proposes to Do in Venezuela.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Senator Morgan, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, was asked Thursday how he regarded the situation in Venezuela, and replied by saying: "I have no doubt that Great Britain's ultimate purpose is to press her frontier sufficiently far into the interior to encompass the rich gold fields of that section, though she will, of course, not disclose this purpose in the immediate future, but rather confine her demands to the territory at the mouth of the Orinoco river."

"Do I think that the United States should permit this aggression?" he asked, repeating a question. "I do not. I think the direct question should be put to Great Britain by our diplomats as to whether she proposes either by purchase or conquest to extend her domain beyond her present claims. In case of a negative reply I should advise that the United States should not interfere with the settlement of existing disputes, but I do not believe that England could be brought to this definite promise not to press their boundaries further in that section, because of the rich gold mines known to exist there. I am convinced, as I believe most men must be who have given attention to the question, that England's desire is to control those gold deposits. Such a course would be in accord with her policy in other parts of the globe, and it goes hand in hand with her gold monopolist policy at home. Controlling the principal gold fields of the world, England naturally desires to maintain the gold standard, and she is naturally willing to extend her gold possessions. It is to her interest to do so, and I can not say that I blame her, but that no reason why the United States should stand idly by and allow her to carry this policy into effect. Furthermore, it is evidently the policy of the present British administration to acquire desirable territory when it can do so, as witness the effort to secure the Hawaiian Islands, the Congo African territory. It is most probable that instead of making any definite reply to the question, the British government would evade it. In that event I think we should evoke the Monroe doctrine forthwith."

BANKER SANDFORD

Shot and Fatally Wounded by Senator Goebel, of Covington, Ky., shortly after 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon shot and fatally wounded President John Sandford of the Farmers' and Traders' bank.

The shooting was in front of the first national bank of Covington, where there was a long standing between the two men because of a bill that Senator Goebel had passed at last legislature, reducing toll on Lexington pike, of which pike Sandford was president and a large stockholder. This, it is believed, is the cause of the shooting.

Mr. Sandford was shot in the head, two bullets penetrating in the right side of the head. He is lying in a critical condition. The shots will certainly prove fatal, although he was still living at 2 o'clock.

Employees Barred Out.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 12.—When the 500 intending strikers at the Atlantic mills in Olney went to work Thursday morning they were surprised to find themselves locked out. The doors were locked and notices posted on them impeding the information that the mills would be closed until further notice. At a meeting Wednesday night the operatives voted to go in Thursday morning and strike after working fifteen minutes.

Glove Contest Held to Be Legal.

GALLEN, Kas., April 12.—The trial of Paddy Portell and John Peterson, the "Red Swede," at this place for prize-fighting, resulted in the case being thrown out of court. Before the contest on March 28 the men signed an agreement that the go would simply be a glove contest. Although Johnson had been badly beaten and beaten by his antagonist, the court held that this agreement was evidence that no prize-fight had occurred.

The Monk!

By MATTHEW G. LEWIS.

Mr. Lewis was a member of the British Parliament, and his book became so popular in England a hundred years ago that it gained for him the title of "Monk Lewis."

It is a fine piece of classic composition, and after being out of print for many years it has been republished from the original text.

It is far superior to "Moby Dick" and books of that character.
